Scott M. Guenther, Managing Partner of Covington-based Adams, Stepner, Woltermann & Dusing, PLLC named to the Covington Business Council Board of Directors

COVINGTON, KY – Scott M. Guenther, Managing Partner at Adams, Stepner, Woltermann & Dusing, PLLC has begun his new role as chair-elect on the Covington Business Council (CBC) board of directors.

Guenther serves on the steering committee for the Business Improvement District. He has been a passionate advocate for the economic revitalization of Covington and is ready to play a greater role over the next few years. As a lifelong Northern Kentucky resident, he has become increasingly interested in the growth and success of Covington since joining the Covington-based law firm, Adams, Stepner, Woltermann & Dusing more than 15 years ago.

“CBC has such a rich history in Covington, says Guenther. “I think it is an exciting time to be a part of the organization. My primary goal day-to-day, with regard to my work with the CBC, is to remain focused on the revitalization of the economy in the urban core of Covington. We need to continue to capitalize on the positive developments happening today such as Gateway’s urban campus and the Covington Hotel and continue to increase the momentum.”

“Scott is an important addition to the CBC board of directors,” says Pat Frew, CBC Executive Director. “As the managing partner of a strong Covington-based business, an attorney and a successful member of the broader Northern Kentucky business community, we are excited about what Scott’s leadership can offer us over the next few years.”

Guenther will serve as chair elect for this year and will assume the role of chair in 2015.
